

OUTDOOR SPORTS ENTHRALL WHITE SULPHUR COLONISTS

Informal Indoor Entertaining Adds Variety to the Round of Golf, Tennis and Riding.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., May 4.

DELIGHTFUL weather has made outdoor sports the favorite pursuit this week, and the large colony has been golfing, playing tennis, motoring, driving and riding daily, with quite a little informal entertaining to make the season even more enjoyable. Many fashionable people are here and all are drawn together by a common interest in the war and activities in behalf of the Liberty Loan and the sale of War Savings Stamps at a booth in the lobby of the Greenbrier.

Mrs. C. Ledyard Blair, who called the meeting on Monday at the Greenbrier, was chairman of the War Savings Stamps Self-Perpetuating Committee, on which Mr. J. Howard Slocom and Mrs. William C. Wheatley are also serving. Mrs. Edward Van Ingen succeeded Mrs. Blair during this week and Mrs. Charles Van Bergen of Buffalo succeeds Mrs. Charles H. Ditson, who started for New York on Saturday. The total sales for the first five days were $4,131. Many of the White Sulphur colony are aiding and the sales will continue throughout the season.

Myron T. Herrick to Return.

Myron T. Herrick, who went up to New York on Saturday to preside at a banquet at the Plaza Sunday evening, will return to join Mrs. Herrick, who has quite recovered from her recent illness. Mrs. Herrick, with J. Howard Slocom, Dr. Charles Van Bergen and the Rev. A. B. Livermore, went to the little old town of Lewisburg, the oldest town in West Virginia, on Friday, following with one there the Liberty rally held at White Sulphur early in the week. The entire sum required for the Liberty rally was subscribed following speeches by these men. Mrs. Mary B. McCall of the Hotel Plaza, who entertained several friends at luncheon on Elmhurst Farm, took them to the rally afterward and they aided in taking subscriptions.

Many luncheons have been given at the Casino of late. On Sunday Mrs. W. Seward Webb, Mrs. W. Seward Webb, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Purdy, Mrs. Louise Wylie, J. Louis Webb, Mrs. George S. Bird and Robert Robertson had luncheon there. Mrs. Webb played golf afterward with Giraud Foster. Mrs. Giraud Foster was on the Casino porch for tea with Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Orme Wilson, who are spending the month of May here.

Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer and Miss Maud Macarone drove out to Sunset Farm for tea on Sunday and several luncheon parties were given there. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ryle entertained a party of eight at luncheon in the sun room on Sunday and Mr. and Mrs. John N. Willys took several guests to Elmhurst Farm for luncheon.

At Sunnyside Farm. There is much entertaining at the Log Cabin at Sunnyside Farm, where Baroness Triga Bonde, Baroness Brita Bonde and Count Goren Rosen of the Swedish Legation in Washington ride frequently for real Swedish pancakes. The Count took several guests down to the Colonial Club on Saturday evening, when the little club was thronged and several suppers were given there.

Mrs. Michael Van Beuren gave a scrambled egg supper there Friday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner W. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Kaufmann and Dr. John Freeland. On Friday a large party spent the rainy afternoon at the club, where tea was served. Miss Celeste Murphy and her fiancé, James Murdoch, Mr. and Mrs. Julius T. Benedict, Mrs. Frances W. C. Pope, R. W. Pettigill and C. W. Price of Chicago, Mr. J. Howard Slocom and several others were present. On Thursday Messrs. Pape and Pettigill took one of the Florida cottages for the afternoon, hired some dainties to sing and play for dancing, and served themselves, dressed as waiters, a jolly buffet luncheon to the same party. George J. Jones, Jr., the noted tennis player, who has been on the courts daily with William L. Ganley, the well known squash star and tennis professional, Mr. Geer has also been playing golf with Mr. Edward Van Ingen, Mrs. Frederick Martin Davies and Laurence Van Ingen. Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gavin have played in a six ball match with them several afternoons.

Edward C. Jones of Toronto entertained at the Casino at luncheon on Sunday for Mrs. William T. Swinburne and Dr. and Mrs. Charles Van Bergen, with whom he is playing golf daily. Mrs. E. S. Beyer had a jolly luncheon party there on Sunday before playing golf in the afternoon.

Red Cross Movie Benefit.

The motion pictures of France at War released by the Red Cross, which were given on Saturday evening, resulted in a collection for the local branch of the Red Cross.

John, who has gone from here to pay some visits in Chicago, will return next week to open her town house for a short time before going to the country for the summer. Albert Morris Bagby of New York has come to spend a few days in Cincinnati and will go from there to his apartments at the Waldorf-Astoria before going away for the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Ditson will remain in New York for several weeks before going home to Jackson, N. H., to open their summer home, the Boulders.

Mrs. Edward Van Ingen gave a dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gavin, Mrs. Frederick Martin Davies, Mrs. John Magee, Brig.-Gen. White of the British recruiting mission, Miss Olive Kanlo, John Moffatt and Laurence Van Ingen were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner W. Brown and Marshall Russell have gone up to New York, leaving Mrs. Russell and her children here for another week or two. Mr. and Mrs. John N. Willys and Miss Virginia Willys, who have spent six weeks here, will return to New York this week.

Lispenard Stewart, William Stores Wells, Mr. and Mrs. William Schall, Mrs. Charles S. Sackett and Isaac Townsend, Giraud Foster, William Duane and many others of the older set are playing golf daily at White Sulphur.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ryle entertained on Saturday for Mrs. Myron T. Herrick, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Russell and William F. Zeller, who arrived this week from St. Louis.

English General an Arrival.

Sir Richard and Lady Crawford, who have completed the cure, have left for Washington. Brig.-Gen. William L. White of England joined Mrs. John Magee's party at the Greenbrier over the week end, and Col. William Williams, who spent a few days here, was out in the saddle daily with Mr. and Mrs. C. Ledyard Blair of New York, who have now gone up to their country place in New Jersey. Capt. R. P. M. Hudson and J. Sanderson Dawson of London are spending a few days at the Greenbrier.

Larz Anderson of Washington has arrived at the Greenbrier for a stay of some length and will take the cure here. He spent several weeks here in the winter. Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the Shipping Board, is here with Mrs. Hurley for a few days rest.

James A. Burden, Ogden Mills and Francis Bishop, who have spent the spring season here, have returned to New York.

Miss Alice Corey has joined her mother, Mrs. E. B. Corey of New York, at the Greenbrier. Her brother, Russell E. B. Corey, has been mentioned during the week in the French despatches, having brought down his first German airplane while with the Lafayette Escadrille. Miss Corey rides daily over the mountain trails and is considered quite the prettiest girl here.

Mr. and Mrs. Curt H. Reisinger will return to New York this week after having spent some time at the Greenbrier. Hartman K. Evans and H. H. Rawlins of New York are among the golfers out daily.

Mrs. Augustus F. Kountze, who was called to New York by a death in her family, has returned to the Greenbrier to resume the cure.

Lieut. Ernest H. Tracy, U. S. A., spent a few days here this week, joining Eugene M. O'Neill and Mrs. Frederick Martin Davies.

Former Representative and Mrs. Peter A. Porter, Jr. and party, who have spent some time at the Greenbrier, will go up to Washington this week and from there to their home at North Tawanda, N. Y.

Glimpses of Spring Modes.

Some of the most striking gowns seen here during the spring season are worn by Mrs. W. Seward Webb, Jr., formerly Miss Gertrude Gaynor of New York, whose tall, brunette beauty is admirably suited to the oriental type of dress which she affects. She has worn one of tete de negre satin, heavily embroidered in Chinese embroidery in gold, peacock blue, green, orange and tete de negre, with a long panel forming a train from the shoulders to the floor, where it trails for about a foot behind her skirt. The lines are extremely long and the dress has a semi-low neck in Dutch style. She wears long pendant earrings of jade, and with her hair parted in the middle and dressed low in the neck.

The smart black and white wool checked sports skirts worn with sweaters of black wool or of bright colors and a simple straw sailor hat and handkerchief linen blouse with a bit of flet lace edging collar and cuffs seems the composite style for the sports clothes worn this season at White Sulphur. Many women have indication of what we may expect this summer. Many women are spending next to nothing on their wardrobe, wearing the same clothes day in and day out, and several dinner gowns frankly one or two seasons old have also been seen on some of the wealthiest women here. Many women have given up their maid's dress wardrobe and are caring for their own wardrobe as a bit of war economy.

Atlantic City Absorbed in Liberty Loan Drive

ATLANTIC CITY, May 4.—Enthusiasm in the drive to put the Liberty Loan quickly over the top here throughout the week.

Gay entertainment has been pushed aside by the sweep of patriotism over visitors and residents alike. The final push that sent the drive across the line with a comfortable margin was concentrated on the beach front Wednesday night when helmeted heroes fresh from encounters with the Boches in France, backed up by John Philip Sousa's Great Lakes Band, stirred throngs along the Boardwalk to victorious efforts.

It has been a week of remarkable demonstrations everywhere in the hotel colony, along the Boardwalk and in the theatres and piers. Hundreds of visitors who had already made generous responses to drives in their home cities answered the appeal of the veterans, the Red Cross nurses and the Boy Scouts who operated along the promenade from booths established in the center of the throng at strategic points. In the last finally tabulated to-night few cities of importance in the country were not represented by visiting purchasers in the sales, along the "walk" during the week. The annual spring golf tournament at the Northfield Country Club has attracted a representative field of crack amateurs from the smart clubs of the East. Many of the tourists are a wider range of clubs represented among the visiting players than has ever featured there in previous years, and the affair has been unusually successful and interesting as a result.

Many Conventions in May.

May promises to take all honors as 1918 convention month. In the bookings to date it has already established the remarkable record of a new convention a day, and several others are pending. The Hotel Traymore alone was entertaining the big gatherings of national note, starting off with the American Society for Clinical Investigation on Monday and ending up with the American Hardware Manufacturers Association from May 22 to 31 inclusive. The majority of the conventions are war emergency conventions.

Mrs. Adeline Prince Clarke and Mrs. Bernard Fairfax are recent additions to the New York colony at the Traymore. They will remain for the rest of the month.

Miss Mae Mathews has joined New York friends at the Traymore. Dr. and Mrs. R. Raymond Hutchinson are sojourning at the Seaside House for the month.

Miss Agnes Ryan and Miss Kate Coe of New York are Whitelire visitors.

Mrs. M. S. Thron of New York is a guest at the Bothwell for May.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkes Bowen of New York have apartments at the St. Charles for a month's visit.

Miss Lois Van Zile and Miss Phyllis Van Zile are additions to the New York colony at the Strand.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton J. Luchs of Washington are visitors at the Breakers.

which Miss Brittingham promptly invested in Liberty bonds.

Much local interest attaches to the marriage of Miss Margaret Rushion, the daughter of Robert E. Rushion, to Lieut. Marion Colles Talley, U. S. Army, at Fort McPherson, which was solemnized Saturday afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church here. The church was banked high with handsome palms, ferns and foliage plants, interspersed with Easter lilies.

Miss Rosamond Green gave one of her delightful social affairs at her tea house on Bath street Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George N. Kirsch have returned from an extended stay at Hot Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. James Tobin and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Phinizy closed their town homes Wednesday and have gone to Grovetown for the summer.

Mrs. Gordon Harris returned to Savannah Wednesday after spending a few days with Mrs. James U. Jackson.

Miss Fannie Butterfield of Brookhaven, Miss, is visiting Mrs. William Erwin on Lincoln street. Miss Butterfield will be among the Southern girls who will take the Red Cross course at Vassar, entering in June.

California Weddings of Interest in New York

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—Miss Miriam Beaver, sister of Mrs. John Cushing of New York, was married here April 23 to Horace Van Sicken. The ceremony was quiet, owing to the absence at the front of several near relatives of both the bride and the bridegroom. The marriage was of social importance and united two prominent families.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Halsey are accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Halsey and Master Bates Halsey during a month's sojourn at the Traymore.

The engagement of Miss Flora Duncan of San Francisco to Kenneth Hume Hunter, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hunter, of Auburn, N. Y., was announced a few days ago at a tea given at the home of the bride-elect. The young couple met at Stanford University, where Miss Duncan has been prominent in social affairs.

ern California are Mrs. Max Magnus and child and maid and Mrs. W. H. Howden.

Insects That Tipple but Reform

THERE would seem to be no particular reason from the human standpoint why the ivy should be called the plant of Bacchus, since no wine is made from its berries. Entomologists, however, have found that the ivy flowers provide a veritable bacchanalian festival for a number of insects. Men of science are wont to saunter forth at night with lanterns to capture the intoxicated moths that crowd around the greenish blossoms. When the willow is in bloom they find a similar scene of dissipation around its yellow catkins.

The tipping insect may be used to point a moral by the prohibitionist, since rum not infrequently leads to its ruin. There is a fly so addicted to wine that Linnaeus named it the "cellar fly," which appellation Kirby changed to the more appropriate one of the "cellar wine drinker." Kirby

General Notes of Events in the World of Society

MISS FRANCES RUTH RAMSEY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reese Ramsey of Greenwich, Conn., has chosen to-morrow for her wedding to Arnold Turner Rowell of Montville, Me., from sentimental reasons. The day will be the golden wedding anniversary of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wear, at whose home in Port Chester, N. Y., the ceremony will take place. It will be followed by the reception of the bride and groom at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rowell, at 184th street, which was recently in the First Presbyterian Church.
